CLAS 318 – Roman Art & Architecture
Tu, Th – 5:10–6:25pm
Stephanie Layton-Kim

Surveys the art of the Roman Empire from its Etruscan origins until the age of Constantine. Examines city planning, architecture, sculpture, painting, and the decorative arts in Rome and its provinces in the context of political and cultural developments. Special emphasis on Roman identities—individual, gendered, social, civic, and cultural—and their effects on and reflections in art.
